Dear Amie,

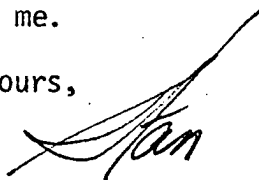

It was good to see you again in London. I thoroughly enjoyed the IISS meeting this year; as always, the atmosphere was cordial and the company stimulating.

I certainly appreciate your asking me to speak at the Military Operations Research Society meeting in December. Having been associated with NATO for a good bit of my naval career, the subject is especially appealing.

Unfortunately, a look at my long-range schedule confirms that a trip out of town during the first week in December is just not in the cards. I do wish it could be otherwise but perhaps we can do it another time.

Again, thanks for thinking of me.

Yours,
